Call for Manuscripts

SaCo: a Forum for Multicultural Education welcomes material related to advancing scholarship on student centered pedagogies in K- postsecondary classrooms from diverse cultural settings. SaCo is published annually through a partnership between Salahaddin University in Erbil, Iraq and the University of Cincinnati in Cincinnati, OH. Blending the initials for both universities, the title SaCo is also derived from the Kurdish word for platform. Building on this definition, the journal serves as a platform for the exchange of information regarding research, theory, and practice in educational pedagogy with an emphasis on multicultural exchange.

SaCo is a refereed publication; therefore, all manuscripts are evaluated without author identification by members of the SaCo editorial review board. The review process begins with an initial evaluation by the editorial team to determine appropriateness. Appropriate manuscripts are then sent out to a minimum of two reviewers for a double-blind peer review. Following this, the editorial team will provide a decision and feedback to authors. The entire review process typically takes approximately 10-12 weeks.

General Guidelines for Submissions

- Previously published or works under review elsewhere will not be considered (a signed statement of ethical submission under permission to publish must accompany all submissions. See addendum).
- For all submissions, writing, citation, and documentation style should follow APA (6th edition) guidelines.
- Figures and tables should be in black and white, and should be submitted as separate files as well as embedded in the manuscript itself.
- Although manuscript length is not the primary consideration, full-length articles addressing educational research, pedagogy, and theory should be 20-25 double-spaced pages.
- Authors should submit two hard copies and one electronic copy of all submission materials, including:
  - the full manuscript, including references and a 150-word max. abstract prepared for blind review (with author and contact information omitted)
  - a separate file containing a cover letter and title page with all authors' names, institutional affiliations, and full contact information for the first author.
  - a permission to publish form.
