HUMAN DEVELOPMENT AND COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT

Be the

CHANGE

Be EMPOWERED

Everywhere you turn, you see an opportunity to change lives!

Human Development and Community Engagement (HDCE) students are major role players in the grass roots community development initiatives that support individuals, children, and families. The HDCE program views the term "community" as local, regional, national, and global. Through advocacy, education, and policy, graduates are equipped to provide opportunities and resources to under-served populations. HDCE students acquire the skills necessary to accomplish the individual, familial, and community endeavors that can help bring positive change to our world.
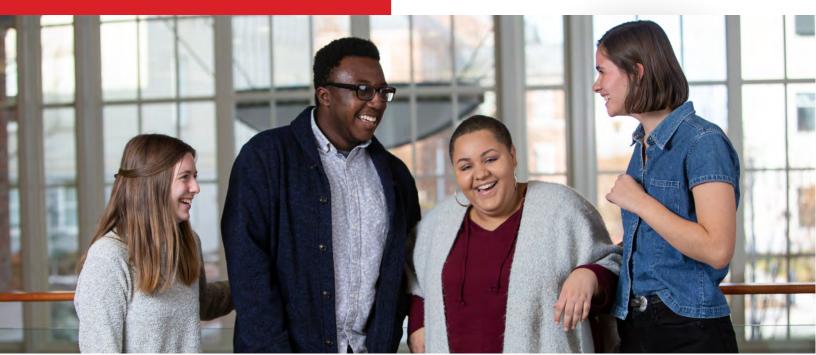

If you are looking for an educational experience that will not only prepare you for success, but provide you with real-world experiences that will enable you to EMPOWER others, HDCE is the degree for you.

UC has over
46,000 Total Enrollment
17:1 Student - Faculty Ratio

The School of Education offers a Bachelor of Science in Human Development and Community Engagement that prepares students to be effective agents of change in today's society. Students interested in this program will collaborate with non-profit organizations, community agencies, and urban city centers to deliver results to families, neighborhoods, cities, and beyond. Students will learn how to extend support that ranges from birth to adulthood. In addition, students will receive hands-on experience through internships and community service projects to learn about potential career options.

Be YOU

You want to be at a campus where you belong and feel a part of a community.

Be a part of a campus, and community, where you can explore the many facets of your selected discipline. Some of this exploration will come through joining a club or organization to increase your network potential and make new friends. Maybe you will want to study abroad or seek international opportunities.

Be IMPACTFUL

We know that education is not always found in the classroom. This is why HDCE provides students with a vast array of opportunities to gain real-world experiences through internships and field placements. Our students are currently interning and gaining hands-on experiences through several community sites such as Cincinnati Children's Hospital, Women Helping Women, Make-a-Wish Foundation, Ohio Innocence Project, and the St. Joseph Orphanage, to name a few.
