TRANSFER to CECH

The College of Education, Criminal Justice, Human Services and Information Technology (CECH) is dedicated to making a difference in our communities through outreach, academic programs, and community partnerships. Our students and faculty work side-by-side with educators, athletic directors, community wellness experts, cyber security analyst, and local, state, and federal law enforcement officials. We value experiential learning as an important element of our degree programs. Current research is incorporated into every course to ensure our graduates are prepared to address the most urgent challenges of our society.

Benefits of a CECH education:

• Real-world experience – have the opportunity to co-op, intern, or student teach in our programs to be a better candidate for careers after graduation.
• Competitive education – with over 40 college-specific rankings, the education you will receive within CECH will be among the best in the nation.
• Intentionally Investing in Inclusion - We see diversity as an inclusive community of people with various human characteristics, abilities, beliefs, and world views when combined challenges their peers to grow, learn, and educate others.

Credit Evaluation

Even before you apply, you can see how your credits will transfer to Cincinnati!

- Visit uc.edu/aas/creditevaluation/equivalency.html
- When you apply to Cincinnati, your overall transfer credit will be evaluated to determine your admissibility to the university. After you are admitted, CECH will determine how your credits apply towards our degree requirements. Here are some general points to understand about transfer credit:

» Cincinnati only accepts credits from accredited institutions. Check your school's accreditation at chea.org
» You must have earned a "D" or better grade for credits to transfer. *
» Your GPA from other institutions is used to make an admission decision, but does not transfer to Cincinnati.
» If you have already earned many credits at another institution, you may still have to meet Cincinnati's requirements of 30 or more semester hours to receive a Bachelor's Degree.

Some programs do not accept a D grade. If you have a D, check with your enrollment services advisor to see if your grade will transfer into the program.
